Compact discs, computer donations, computer monitors, computer recycling, electronics, game console reuse, NiCad batteries, nonferrous metal, office machines, rechargeable batteries, telephones, televisions

Intercon Recycling, with over 30 years of recycling experience and a fully approved environmental facility, is equipped to handle the recycling needs for corporations of any size as well as individuals. Specifically, we deal with all types of computers, electronics, miscellaneous electrical equipment, scrap metals, cables, and some other recyclables such as batteries. As a growing recycling company that cares deeply about the environment, they would like to help you maintain a firm grasp on your company environmental liabilities. You can send your equipment to them in Chicago for recycling. For a quote please send a complete list of items to be recycled via fax or email. Once they receive the equipment they will send you a Certificate of Recycling that releases your company from any environmental liabilities. It is not legally necessary at this time for individuals to receive Certificates of Recycling but they provide them anyway. At Intercon Recycling, they have a Zero-tolerance landfill policy, which means that no part of any equipment sent to them will end up in a landfill. You may also call 773-521-5642, fax them at 773-762-2604, or email them at info@interconrecycling.com for more information.
